

Small Industrial Nozzles

Reliable washdown performance for demanding sanitation environments.

Sani-Lav industrial spray nozzles are engineered for daily use in food processing and industrial cleaning applications. Durable metal construction, ergonomic handling, and water-saving models make them a dependable choice for sanitation teams.

Why our small nozzles stand out

- Stainless steel handle for maximum durability in heavy-use environments
- Durable metal construction – stronger than plastic alternatives
- Color options available – helps prevent cross-contamination in food facilities
- Designed for demanding industrial sanitation environments
